What Will You Give Him For Christmas?

THERE'S one thing that is certain; it will be a useful gift; something that he needs and would have to buy if you didn't give it to him. Nobody wants to be wasteful this year.

Here at this store we have only the things men and young men need and want and we'll be glad to show you—maybe he's at school or at camp; we can help you in either case. Here are a few suggestions:

Hosiery
Mufflers
Belts
Collars
Shirts

Underwear
Gloves
Neckwear
Sweaters
Pajamas

The most substantial, useful gift a man could receive for Christmas is a Hart Schaffner & Marx suit or overcoat; they are economical because they can be depended on to wear a long time.

U. S. PRISONERS IN GOOD SHAPE

REPORT TO RED CROSS SAYS 2,300 AT CAMP RASTATT ARE ALL IN GOOD SPIRITS.

(By the Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Dec. 3.—Twenty-three hundred American prisoners at Camp Rastatt, Germany, were reported "well organized, well clothed and morale excellent" in a cablegram to the American Red Cross from Lem G. Levy of the prisoners' relief section, who had just visited Camp Rastatt.

Reports of Prisoners Taken.
WASHINGTON, Dec. 3.—Lists of Americans in German prison camps are still being forwarded to the war department, though it is assumed most of them have been released. The list received today included at Camp Rastatt, Henry D. Craig of Ravia, Okla., and Clarence E. Hatcher of Washita, Okla.

DUTCH STOP EXPORTS TO THE GERMANS

(By the Associated Press)
LONDON, Dec. 3.—The Dutch government has decided to stop all exports to Germany in reprisal for the stoppage of exports of German coal to Holland, according to an Exchange telegraph dispatch from Amsterdam.

STRIKE AGAINST WOMEN CONDUCTORS

(By the Associated Press)
CLEVELAND, Dec. 3.—To enforce the demands upon the Cleveland Railway Co., that women employed as conductors since last August, be dismissed, twenty-four hundred motormen and conductors went on a strike this morning at 5 o'clock.

Keep Your Saving System Going.
It is poor policy to figure to cut your deposit one week and make up the deficiency next pay day. This course will soon break up your saving system, you'll find. Get a little money ahead and then you will wonder how you could have enjoyed yourself a minute while you were living from one pay day to the next, constantly putting off your creditors, and without a cent to fall back on should you become ill or lose your job.—Norton Spirit.

The Stick-Carrying Habit.
The stick habit is much more common in England than in America. In New York, or Boston, or Chicago, or any other American town for that matter, you seldom see a youngling man carry a stick. As a general thing he is too busy to be bothered with a piece of wood in his hand. He carries his paper, of course, and he must have one hand free for a cigar and for raising his hat.

Poser From Prison.
If men are the helpless creatures of their environment, how then do you account for the fact that in this prison there are three separate and distinct grades? Since the environment is precisely the same, how do you explain the segregation of the inmates into three wholly dissimilar classifications?—Leavenworth New Era.

How to Carry Ink.
When traveling fasten all the bottles and small jars by adhesive tape. Fasten the tape to one side of the neck, carry it across the cork and down on the other side. Celluloid and ivory boxes and jars may be fastened in the same way. They are easily opened and yet so securely fastened that there is no danger of leaking.

Fearless.
A man who makes $15 a week has been advised by a writer that he can marry and get along, providing he has saved up a fund. That sounds reasonable. A man who can save a fund out of a $15-a-week salary has nothing to fear from marriage or anything else.—Kansas City Star.

Symptoms of kidney disease should receive instant attention, as neglect is dangerous. If your back aches or you have trouble with the urine, begin taking Prickly Ash Bitters. It is a dependable kidney remedy. Price $1.25 per bottle.—Gwin & Mays Drug Co., Special Agents.

OKLA. WOMEN ARE VOTERS

GOV. WILLIAMS PROCLAIMS SUFFRAGE AMENDMENT PART OF CONSTITUTION.

(By the Associated Press)
OKLAHOMA CITY, Dec. 3.—Governor Robert L. Williams, in compliance with the election laws, today formally proclaimed that the suffrage amendment, recently voted on in the general election, received a majority of all votes cast and is now part of the state constitution.

ALLIES WILL DEMAND KAISER

ALLIES AGREED THAT HIS EXTRADITION MUST BE DEMANDED OF HOLLAND.

(By the Associated Press)
LONDON, Dec. 3.—The surrender of William Hohenzollern will be demanded of Holland in the name of all the allied cabinets according to the Express. The views of France and Italy have been fully communicated to the British government and President Wilson has made suggestions relative to procedure in the case. Authority is claimed by the Express for the statement that although there are some little differences of law among allied jurists, Monday's conference in Downing street revealed unanimity relative to the bringing of the former emperor to answer for his crimes. The opinion prevails that Holland will not be disposed to put obstacles in the way of Wilhelm's extradition.

JUST A WORD TO THE ADA PUBLIC

The Sing Song Club is determined to prove itself worthy of a place in the community and fully realizes that its worth must be measured by the results it produces. Entertainments, merely as such, do not get results that are lasting—that make indelible impressions on community life. Entertainments can be supremely enjoyable and at the same time highly educational in spite of the feeling to the contrary.

The program of the Arthur Middleton concert, published yesterday, is a most promising one both as an entertainment and as a study. It does not make any difference whether you are a musician, or not, the program is so full of melody, character and personality that you are bound to be pleased and not only pleased, but exalted by it.

It is impossible for the club to understand how a musician can afford to deprive himself or herself of the opportunity to study, first hand, the work of an artist whom they, as well informed musicians, are bound to recognize as a leader of first rank in their profession. A very casual glance at the program certainly is enough for a musician.

So many of our people, recognizing the extraordinary ability of Mr. Alberti last year deplored the fact that they had not been able to hear him in solo. This season's program affords this opportunity and all Adaites have the opportunity of hearing and enjoying a double treat such as Ada has never before been able to offer.

AMERICANS ON GERMAN SOIL

WILL OCCUPY SIXTY MILE LINE EAST OF RHINE RIVER AROUND COBLENZ.

(By the Associated Press)
AMERICAN ARMY OF OCCUPATION, Dec. 2.—After their first night's sleep in Germany, American troops of the army of occupation resumed their march at dawn today toward the Rhine. In the advance on Coblenz Americans are moving ahead astride the Moselle river in a north-easterly direction. Across the Rhine, Americans will take up a line over sixty miles long in the shape of semi-circle having Coblenz as the pivotal center with a radius of 18.6 miles. Along the Rhine the Americans will occupy a line about 43 miles long overlapping in places the British lines on the left and French lines on the right.

SURRENDER OF ENGINES DELAYED

(By the Associated Press)
PARIS, Dec. 3.—It appears that the Germans will be unable to deliver all of the 5,000 locomotives stipulated in the armistice agreement by December 17, according to the Matin, and it is possible the allies will grant more time. This will delay peace negotiations somewhat.

HOSPITALS SECURED FOR RETURNED WOUNDED

(By the Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Dec. 3.—Plans under which all wounded men returning from France will be sent to hospitals within 300 miles of the homes of their nearest relatives were announced today by the war department. To this end base hospitals at training camps have been turned over to the surgeon general, providing seventy-five hospitals with facilities to care for 104,231 men. Fifty thousand men are expected to be sent to these institutions within the next four months.

Authors' Advantage.
The circumstance which gives authors an advantage above all great masters is this, that they can multiply their originals; or rather can make copies of their works to what number they please, which shall be as valuable as the originals themselves.—Addison.

Hospitality.
There is no unconcern, almost ostentatious, to equal that of the hostess who pours the clotted cream on the guest's peaches as if clotted cream were an everyday incident in that household. Blessed is hospitality.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Box With Brains.

Another Feminine Industry.
"Girls wanted for men's neckwear," reads the advertisement of a department store. But we imagine that a man would be uncomfortable wearing a girl around his neck.—New Orleans States.

Should Say Not.
"It's all right to pay as you go," observed the almost philosopher, "but if you have to pay 25 cents street car fare to get there and back, the chances are you won't go."

Crockery Saver.
Danger of breakage is eliminated in a new motor-driven dish washer in which the dishes are held stationary in wire baskets and water is forced around them.

We presume that Teddy will again assail the President because Teddy himself was not made the chairman of the American peace delegation and Leonard Wood as his right bower.

In talking peace, will some one please mention Mr. Bryan? The world should not forget the many great things this leader has done, in the realm of peace. Although he has made some notable mistakes, he has never been convicted of being anything but a man of the highest ideals, aspirations and attainments.

And now the German government has ordered an "investigation" of the atrocities in Belgium and the authors of same. This is the joke of the war. Without doubt the report will be to the effect that the bone headed Belgians were to blame for the whole trouble as they would not bend their neck for the Huns to tread on as they marched for France, just as a robber would argue that had his victim given up his money he would not have killed him.

President Wilson has again exemplified his greatness. To his already large contribution to our nation's supply of great state papers, he has added another and one of his best. He has stilled those who criticize him for going to Europe. He has, in phrase both eloquent and most exceedingly apt, told what the boys on the battle front have done. He has outlined a plan for reconstruction, not only at home but abroad, that places him as one of the greatest of our constructive statesmen.

Republicans in Congress have determined to make party warfare paramount to everything else, it appears from recent acts. President Wilson has led the nation through the most crucial time since the civil war. He has demonstrated time and time again that he is greater than party.

greater than any other president since Lincoln, and yet when this leader delivers what, in many respects, is the most notable speech in our history, the Republicans refuse to applaud. Of course the failure to applaud would mean nothing, if it had not been accepted as the mark of appreciation. When President Taft had to deal with Democrats in congress, he found them will to extend to him every mark of courtesy and render every aid. President Wilson faces two more years of service, and in these two years he will be hounded, persecuted, maligned and hampered, if the present actions of the Republicans are to be taken as samples of what is to follow.

CHARLES T. FOSTER TELLS OF FRONT LINE SERVICE

Dear Mother:
I haven't had a chance to write in five weeks. We were at the front all through the month of October and believe me it was sure a tough one. We were on one of the old famous fronts you have been reading about for four years but we soon chased the Dutch out of there, but we lost lots of men and we left a whole raft of dead Boches there also. I had the pleasure of hearing the Huns cry out "kamrad" several times. We took a lot of prisoners and they were all happy when they came over and found out we were not going to kill them. When they would come over some of them were scared to death, shaking like a leaf, afraid they were going to be killed. Some of them could talk pretty good English. I saw several airplanes brought down, some with artillery, others with machine guns and infantry. I had several narrow escapes, but Fritz didn't have my number. We were over ground that was once a dense forest but all that was left was a few stumps and sprouts and a mass of splintered wood. These were hell holes about every five feet. I brought back a German helmet and a Prussian guard's belt. The buckle has on it (Gott mit uns). I am going to send them to you if I can. Alva and Bill Smith went to the hospital from the front, sick from exhaustion and exposure. Expect them back to the company any day now.

Our division sure made a name for itself this last front. I expect we will get to wear a cord around our arm with some stars on it, each star for a citation. I am not sure but that is what some of the men said that came back from the hospital. You may keep this letter for a Dutch souvenir. I don't know whether it is French or German paper, but any way a Hun had it in his possession when he got bumped off. There was also one sheet of American Y. M. C. A. paper in the package. I guess he had it for a souvenir but he didn't get to take it back to Germany. We just got the news yesterday that Austria had quit. That leaves Germany alone and she can't last much longer. I have received several copies of the Oklahoman but they don't come regularly. You can put a service chevron on my service flag now. When I get home you won't need a room for me, just reserve me a place in the yard large enough to dig a dugout, that will seem like home, being in a dugout.

Your loving son,
Bug. Chas. T. Foster.

THE MEN IN CLASS A1

A sound, healthy man is never a back number. A man can be as vigorous and able at seventy as at twenty. Condition, not years, puts you in the discard. A system weakened by overwork and careless living brings functions are impaired and unpleasant symptoms appear. The weak spot is generally the kidneys. Keep them clean and in proper working condition and you will generally find yourself in Class A1. Take GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules periodically and your system will always be in working order. Your spirits will be enlivened, your muscles supple, your mind active, and your body capable of hard work.

Don't wait until you have been rejected. Commence to be a first-class man now. Go to your druggist at once. Get a trial box of GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules. They are made of the pure, original, imported Haarlem Oil—the kind your great-grandfather used. Two capsules each day will keep you toned up and feeling fine. Money refunded if they do not help you. Remember to ask for the imported GOLD MEDAL brand. In three sizes, sealed packages.

CROP SUMMARY FOR NOVEMBER

(By Oklahoma State Board of Agriculture, Frank M. Gault, President, Oklahoma City, Okla.)

The condition of wheat is 93%. Condition last month was 85% and on the same date in 1917 wheat showed a growing condition of 51%. Reports from every part of the state show the ground to be in excellent condition, and prospects for a bumper crop were never better at this time of the year.

The acreage cut for hay this year is 89% of that cut in 1917. This decrease was caused by insufficient moisture during the growing season. The average yield per acre of sorghum cut for forage this year was 1.9 tons. Last year the average yield per acre was 2.5 tons.

The farmer still has on hand from this year's crop 50% of corn, 11% of wheat, 32% of oats and 65% of kafir and milo. On the same date in 1917 he had on hand 53% of corn, 18% of wheat 29% of oats and 69% of kafir and milo. During the past month he has consumed and marketed 12% of corn, 5% of wheat, 5% of oats and 18% of kafir and milo.

The average price received by the farmer for lint cotton per pound is 26c, kafir and milo per bushel $1.57, alfalfa per ton $29.00 and hay per ton $22.00. On the same date in 1917 lint cotton brought 27c per pound, alfalfa $24.00 per ton and prairie hay $16.00 per ton.

Deep-seated coughs that resist ordinary remedies require both external and internal treatment. J. H. GRESHAM OVER THE TOP THREE TIMES

In a letter to his sister J. H. Gresham, Co. A, 142nd Infantry, he says: Have been on the move several days; was relieved at the front but am now stationed on guard in a town for ten days. Guess I will get a few days rest here.

Well, I guess you have heard already of the 36th division being on the front and what they did. Well, I was there with the bunch and tried to do my part. Have been over the top three times: lots of sport and excitement, but I had rather not go over any more unless I have to. I always wanted to cross the Atlantic ocean. I want to cross it now worse than I ever did, but I am with the boys now and want to stay with them and all cross together.

MEAT INCREASE AT TIME NEEDED

Producers Responded Nobly When Demand Was Shown to Them.

CATTLE AND HOG FIGURES.

Government Justified in Pork Policy Which Now Provides Chief Supply to Meet Three Billion Pound Fat Shortage.

In line with the general plan of conservation formulated by the U. S. Food Administration immediately following the entrance of the United States into the war the contribution made by the meat producers of this country to the war program is of particular significance, as it demonstrates the hearty co-operation accorded the Food Administration by the meat producers of the country.

According to reports of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, there was an increase in cattle of 10,238,000 head and 12,441,000 hogs, these figures compiled to January 1 last. In the same period there was a decrease of 819,000 head of sheep, but indications are this decrease will show an increase following the latest reports.

Since January 1 unofficial information indicates an increase in hogs of not less than eight per cent, and no more than fifteen per cent, compared with one year ago, with an increase in average weight.

Following the request of the Food Administration for increase in hog production for the fall of 1918 and the spring of 1919 the increase may yield not less than 1,600,000,000 pounds; more of pork products than were available last year. Without this increase the shipping program arranged by Mr. Hoover regarding animal food products would have been impossible.

The dressed hog products during the three months ending September 30, 1917, amounted to 903,172,000 pounds, while for the same months of 1918 the production was 1,277,589,000 pounds, an increase of over 374,000,000 pounds for the quarter.

During the same period in 1917 inspected slaughter records of dressed beef showed 1,263,000,000 pounds as against 1,454,000,000 pounds for the three month period ending September 1, 1918.

We must increase our meat shipments, especially our pork products, to meet the added demands of the millions liberated from German oppression. And at the same time we must look forward to the rehabilitation of the European meat herds. The policy which guided our meat program in the past year has been fully justified, for only the heavy pork production which it has brought about will enable us even partly to satisfy the increased demands on us for the coming year. There will be a world shortage in fats, and it is to the United States that Europe must look to supply its deficiency. At the same time there will continue to be heavy demands for beef. Owing to the limited refrigerator shipping capacity European imports of beef for some time will be limited. The United States, Australia and Argentina will be able to maintain a supply that will keep all available freezer vessels operating at capacity.

America's Pledge to the Allies When Their Lines Were Breaking

America will send the food, whatever needs for victory. They believed, they stood fast and with our men they carried on—to victory.

THE TEST NOW FULFILLED.

This government is nothing more than the expression of the people, and if we are to win the war it will be only because every man, woman and child charges himself daily and hourly with the test, does this or that contribute to win the war?—Herbert Hoover, April 13, 1918.

With the solemn obligation of providing that "margin" of food that would safeguard against starvation our friends in Europe the housewife and the consumer have learned hitherto to ignore and unsuspected things about food, have absorbed a whole "college education" in food values, food handling, buying and substituting that they will not want to forget.

Our voluntary food-saving not only saved the Allies and made vital contribution to the winning of the war, but saved to ourselves in administration expenses the outlay out of our own pockets that any effective system of rationing would have extracted. It would have cost us about $45,000,000 to have policed ourselves as against the 2 cents per capita for co-operating.

By saving and sharing America kept the world together during the war crisis. By saving and sharing America will help to bring the healing of nations.

The New Engine

We have received our new Engine, ordered last January, and for several weeks will be tearing out the old and putting in the new. While doing this work we will have only one engine to depend on for service, so there will probably be some interruptions. We trust they will be few and of short duration and that our customers will bear with us patiently. For two or three Sundays, beginning with the 10th, the plant will be shut down from two to six hours while making changes in steam lines necessary to make connections for the new engine.

The Liberty Girls

THE RED CROSS! CONSERVATION! WOMEN IN WARTIME! PATRIOTISM! All These Exemplified by Five Charming Girls. More and more as the days go by, woman is assuming the cares and responsibilities of the man who has gone to war. In the shops and factories, in the fields, she is taking up man's work. What more fitting, then, than a program built around the conservation theme, and the place woman has taken in the war? AND SO WE HAVE THE LIBERTY GIRLS. An orchestra, a company of entertainers, a patriotic program of song and story, an evening of music and an opportunity to lay aside your cares and troubles and discouragements, and enjoy a chance to rest your mind and muscles. There will be some of the well known songs, there will be some brand new numbers. A Hoover song, written especially for the Liberty Girls, will be one of the features. These five young ladies have been chosen, not alone because they are exceptionally good individual entertainers, but also because of their ability to work together for the good of the entertainment as a whole. Attractive costumes—a not unimportant detail—have been designed for these program features and add to their effectiveness. In fact, nothing has been overlooked in planning for a most enjoyable time when you hear and see the Liberty Girls. Remember, a varied program suited to present-day needs, given with a vim and snap that fills your evening with enjoyment and sends you back to your daily task with a good taste in your mouth.

LUCIE'S FIRST AID

By AGNES G. BROGAN.

(Copyright, 1918, Western Newspaper Union.)

Aunt Lucinda has always impressed upon my sister and me, the fact that in order to appear as desirable wives in the eyes of worth-while young men, we must be good housekeepers, capable and careful. To this purpose we have been trained; but while Aunt and I still remain perfect unmarried housekeepers, Lucie's romance has quite another ending.

Certainly it was not her capability which attracted to her the man who was to be her husband. But as usual, I am starting my story end first, and telling things which later—happened.

The beginning was one cloudy morning when Lucie, who will not be called Aunt's full name, started down town for a shopping tour. She looked very pretty as I walked with her as far as the car, and she was not as sensibly attired as Aunt would have wished her to be for the occasion.

When she had seated herself and waved to me from the car window, I went back to my baking, and I was haunted by the picture of a khaki-clad soldier who had moved down on the long seat to make room for Lucie. His face was so ghastly pale, and his big eyes so darkly ringed, that I was sure he had just returned broken in health from over seas. Also, in my interested look through the window, I noticed that the soldier's arm was suspended in a sling. And strangely enough, when my sister returned all aglow at evening, it was of this young man that she talked, dimpling and smiling the while, and of his part in her day's adventure.

For it seemed that as she neared the downtown district, Lucie, with one of her impulses, decided to stay on the car instead, and ride over to the West side, to visit a friend. And just as she was about to leave the car, down came a heavy shower. Lucie was glad to know that she had brought an umbrella, and she snatched it up pushing through the crowd to the door. As she descended the steps, she was aware of the injured soldier close behind her, and suddenly another impulse seized my sister. He was such a frail wan-looking fellow for all of his brave clear eyes, that Lucie said she feared he might take pneumonia in that soaking rain, and she moved over quickly and offered him the shelter of her umbrella.

He smiled a little, Lucie said, assuring her of his gratitude, but his home was too far from the car line for him to impose upon her offer. As the length of the walk he must take only made her duty more necessary, Lucie started cheerfully along at his side, with the umbrella held well over the soldier's bandaged arm. And as they swung down the avenue, he told her many interesting tales of war, and though the wounded man carefully omitted the personal from his stories, Lucie was sure that he had played a heroic part in them all.

His arm would soon be all right, he said, but the doctor had warned him that returning strength must come slowly. So he had to be patient—he must be patient, even if they refused to let him go back to fight the Hun. And most delightfully at the end of their walk together, they found a little old lady waiting upon the porch of a trim white house, to welcome back her son.

Lucie was urged to come in and dry her damp clothes before the grate fire. Homer, was the name of her hero, and Lucie found it easily in the "phone book. Though Mrs. Homer answered, her son added to the message. "If Miss Craythorne would give her address," he said, "he would be glad to return the umbrella in the morning."

True to his promise, on the following morning, Mr. Jack Homer arrived at our door, a black silk umbrella in his hand, and I neither saw Lucie after his entrance, nor did she call me into the room, though the murmuring of their voices and low laughter, came to me as I methodically continued my ironing.

The romance unfolded so quickly that aunt and I were bewildered over succeeding events. When the weather was considered unfavorable for Jack's visits, Lucie continued what she termed her own "Red Cross work," by cheering the invalid at the home of his mother; and his evident progress in health paid due tribute to her faithfulness.

It was when we were making plans together for the wedding that Lucie said tenderly:

"I shall always keep that umbrella, Jack, as a reminder of the wonderful way it brought us together."

"You may," her beloved agreed. "I may?" Lucie repeated questioningly.

Jack nodded. "You see," he explained, "it is really my own umbrella, Lucie. When you first snatched it up from beside me on the car seat, I did not quite understand—even thought, that your offer to take me home under its protection, was made because of a rebuking conscience. But as we walked on together—Oh! as we walked together dear, I blessed your mistake, and I'm blessing it yet."

The shocked incredulity of my sister's face made us all laugh.

"I recall now," I said, "that you had no umbrella, Lucie, as you stepped on to the car."

And that is why my faith in aunt's theory of impressing a future husband, is faltering.

BULLETIN NO. 10

The only trouble we are having in getting Egg-O on the market is the worthless substitutes that are being offered to the trade. Most of the egg substitutes on the market have no food value and are all gross frauds.

Egg-O has twice the food value of the fresh egg. This fact is sworn to by one of the best chemists in the State of Oklahoma.

Try Egg-O in anything you cook that requires an egg. You will find that it is better than an egg to cook with.

If you will dissolve one teaspoonful of Egg-O in a little sweetmilk for each egg required and scramble with brains, this will make the best brains and eggs you ever ate.

Ask your groceryman about the sworn statement of Dr. DeBarr regarding the food value of Egg-O.

Try putting one teaspoonful of Egg-O in your coffee pot in the morning when you make your coffee. You will find it will make a wonderful improvement in your coffee.

Do not buy an egg substitute until you find out that it has some food value.

Egg-O has twice the food value of the fresh egg. This fact is sworn to by one of the most reputable chemists in the State of Oklahoma.

Try Egg-O in your pumpkin, potato, lemon, custard and chocolate pies. You will find by experimenting a little that you can make just as good pies with Egg-O as you can with eggs. Then use Whip-O for your meringues; it is purer and better than the fresh eggs.

Buying a can of Egg-O for 25c is just like buying three dozen eggs for 25c, even better, for it is richer and purer than the best eggs you can get. This fact is sworn to by one of the best chemists in the State of Oklahoma.

PROCEEDINGS IN DISTRICT COURT

The case of John Stephens, charged with forgery, was completed in district court Monday afternoon, resulting in a mistrial.

This morning on motion of the county attorney, the charge of forgery against Clarence Nicholls was reduced to false pretense and plea of guilty entered. He was released for the present on his good behavior.

Four murder cases have been set for Monday and Judge Bolen, being disqualified in some of them, will exchange benches with some other judge. A special venire has been summoned for Monday in anticipation of the trial of these cases.

Our City's Greatest Struggle

With the advent of peace America faced a commercial problem almost as great as the military crisis of a year ago. Readjustment of conditions will cause a scramble among the business interests of our country, and that city or town which is up and doing FIRST, fighting for all there is in the game, will win the most.

Ada To the Front

Our own city must go to the battle front; must fight as valiantly as did our fellows "Over There." Our Chamber of Commerce—YOUR Chamber of Commerce—has planned a membership campaign that will fill the treasury of the Club and give its directors the necessary reserves with which to operate.

December 9, 10 and 11

—These three days have been set aside for strengthening our commercial organization, and raising $6,000 with which to operate during 1919. Decide NOW, what you will do, and then raise your own "ante."

Remember only those families who are represented in the Chamber of Commerce are eligible to compete in the Slogan Contest, with a $40.00 Set of Cut Glass, given by our HOME GLASS FACTORY, as a premium for the best slogan. Get yourself on the list of eligibles.
